Mr. Manfred Lehnert
Hong Kong

Dear Mr. Lehnert,

I am glad to confirm to you the following test results for the DE-KA pain inhibitor.

The nerve of tooth 43 was stimulated in 5 patients using CO2 snow. With 4 patients, it was possible at the latest after 2 minutes stimulation to effect a significant reduction of the pain right up to the pain being eliminated. With 1 patient no significant reduction occurred after 2 minutes.

With another patient, it was possible to prepare teeth 34 and 35 for crowns without conduction anaesthesia. The pain experienced at the beginning was no longer perceptible for the patient after approx. 30 seconds.

With another patient, it was possible to do without the postoperative administration of analgesics following an operation to remove her wisdom teeth under local anaesthetic.

Yours sincerely
